

Hacking Communication Systems as Graphic Designers

As designers we seek to find means of expression beyond the spoken and written words. Your task is to find a way to communicate a given principle of design only by gestures and make it clear by capturing it in 5 single images.

Instruction:

- Read the task and the given design principles carefully and come up with a gestic way of communicating the last one in the list.
- In style of the last semesters, use your webcam to capture your gesture in 5 single images.
- Do not use text or colors to communicate, so turn your images black and white.
- Add a new principle of design to the list, for the next designer to translate.
- Only forward the task and the updated list to the next designer.
