Chinese whispers (Stille Post) via Zoom

This idea is about changing and designing the Zoom-background upon a certain topic. In the end we will end up with maybe a totally new subject.

Example round:

1. Person 1 (P1) designs the first Zoom-background with a message or question. Person 2 (P2) will reply to that with an illustration and upload it to the Zoom-session.
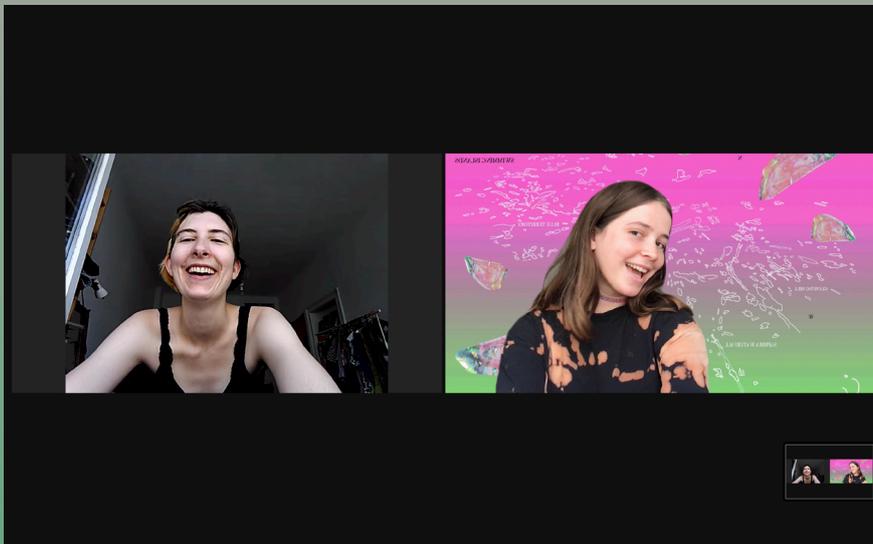

2. Then P1 and P2 meet up at Zoom, P1 will take a screenshot of the interface with both people in front of the backgrounds (Question → Answer).

3. In the second round P2 delivers the illustration from the first round to P3. P3 now needs to design what comes up to his/her/their mind when seeing the illustrated Zoom-background, or what he/she/they think it is about (can be a new question/a topic/a word).

4. Now both people, P2 and P3 meet up at Zoom with their backgrounds. P2 screenshots the session.

5. So the person that initiates the meeting always has to take a photo of this session and send it to Nina.

Please keep in mind to always stick to the frame of text/question/topic ← → illustration/graphics/ photo so there is kind of a change between written and illustrated work!!

FYI: the screenshot needs to be taken in fullscreen-mode on Zoom as you see above.

FYI: Please feel free to do what you would like to in front of your background. If you do not want to be seen you can also turn around or put your hand in front of your face. Would be amazing to see you though!!

FYI: To set up your own background just hover over your own screen and click on the three appearing dots.

FYI: If the initiating person does not have a Zoom-account, you can use mine, just let me know!
